House Approves Britain's Policy In Spanish War

Commons Registers Heavy Vote Of Approval On Issue

BITTER DEBATE PRECEDES VOTE

Labor Motion Of Censure Is Voted Down 345-130 By Members

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 15.—Britain's policy toward the Spanish civil war and the rebel blockade of Bilbao had the overwhelming approval of the house of commons today after a labor motion of censure was voted down by 345 votes to 130.

The Laborites brought up the motion of censure because of the government's refusal to use British warships to smash the blockade, which is not recognized by Britain.

For hours the government listened while opposition speakers in a bitter debate taunted the government for being "afraid" to use the British navy against the small Spanish rebel fleet. But finally, British foreign secretary Anthony Eden made his reply.

Eden Hits Back

Eden, who mentioned the American Civil War as a precedent for the present British policy, hit back at the charges of cowardice by stating the government was responsible for the lives of millions and intended to do nothing that would cause an outbreak of war in Europe.

The real act of cowardice, he declared, would be to "run risks which were not justified' for the sake of "some cheap applause."

Eden declared British shipping, far from being indignant regarding the governments attitude toward the blockade, fully appreciated and understood the government's action.

He said that to take forcible action within territorial waters of Spain would mean intervention in the Spanish struggle.

Non-Intervention Policy

"If we were to send British mine sweepers into Spanish territorial waters, that might be argued as intervention. It is the government's conviction that a non-intervention policy is the only means at their disposal to prevent the conflict from spreading beyond the borders of Spain.

"It would be the height of folly

Reapportionment Of Legislative Districts Is Now Being Mapped

By FREDERICK N. POLANGIN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, April 15.—With the rest of Gov. George H. Earle's "mandate" program moving on its own momentum, although in need of administration pressure at times, the 132nd legislature today set out to realign lop-sided legislative districts.

Reapportionment bills in both the house and senate, it was learned today, will be ready for action next week, redistribution the districts for the first time in more than two decades.

Sen. William B. Rodgers, D. Allegheny, chairman of the Senate Reapportionment committee, told International News Service a complete bill will be ready for introduction in the upper chamber next week. Only major changes to be made in the 50 districts will be in Lackawanna and Allegheny counties, each to receive an additional senator, he said.

Foresee Drastic Changes

In the house, however, the picture is somewhat different. There, changes will be drastic, with some representatives facing the "duty" of committing political hari-kari when voting for reapportionment, for some will be voting themselves out of a constituency. Rep. Frank Zappala, D., Allegheny, chairman of the house reapportionment committee, has already introduced a "dummy"

Philadelphia Man Suicides During Party

Man Who Visioned Himself "Soldier Of Fortune", Recent Bridegroom, Suicide

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 15.—Gerge G. Michener, 30, a clerk, who visioned himself a soldier of fortune, today had chosen suicide as "a way out" of the strange drama of his own imagination.

A fortnight ago Michener, who is also a national guardsman, invented a story about receiving a lieutenancy in the U. S. army, according to police, and preparing to leave for China. Last Friday he and Helen Goldmann, 20, were secretly married in New York.

On their return here Michener confided to friends he was "due to sail" for his foreign post last night. A farewell was arranged at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bleakley, and a party of friends volunteered to escort Michener to New York to catch the steamship.

At the height of the festivities, however, a shot rang through the Bleakley home. Michener was found dead on the bathroom floor with a .32-calibre bullet in his heart. Beside him lay a note begging his bride's forgiveness for deceiving her.

Make Report On Band Fund Drive

Over $800 Contributed In Campaign Of Students On Tuesday Morning

DRIVE FIGURE NOW TOTALS ABOUT $1450

Senior high school students collected $808.08 for the benefit of the high schol band in their three-hour solicitation for cash contributions on Tuesday.

When Campaign Treasurer Alfred H. Owens counted up all the pennies, dimes, nickels, quarters, half-dollars—and there was a $10 bill and a $5 bill—this morning, it became known that over $800 more had been raised for the fund which it is hoped will outfit the musical group with new uniforms and instruments.

The drive total now stands at $1,439.63, Mr. Owens reported. The rest had been given in the advance solicitation.

It took Mr. Owens and an aide about an hour and a half to establish the total which the student host raised on their rounds of the business and residential districts Tuesday. Almost 600 sealed cans—just one was empty—had to be opened and the coins counted.

Principal Frank L. Orth announced after the result was known that the citizen's group which backed the drive will meet sometime next week. Alec Samuels, president of the sponsoring group, was out of town.

Shipping Tieup Is Threatened Result Of Labor Dispute

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 15.—A dispute between radio operators and the International Mercantile Marine today threatened to tie-up vessels on both the east and west coasts.

Mervyn Rathborne, president of the American Radio Telegraphists Association, predicted that "every boat sailing under the IMM flag will be tied up until a satisfactory agreement is reached".

Trouble broke out yesterday, and prevented the scheduled sailing of the President Roosevelt of the United States lines, when radio operators objected to the signing of non-union telegraphists aboard the ship.

Helen Hogue, of Meyer avenue, is confined to her home on account of illness.

North Beaver Future Farmers Banquet Fathers At Mt. Jackson School

At the Mt. Jackson high school on Wednesday evening, approximately 100 fathers and sons gathered at a banquet, with the boys of the North Beaver Chapter of the Future Farmers of America organization acting as hosts.

It was the first banquet of this kind for the boys organization, a feature of the Mt. Jackson Vocational Agricultural School, and was most successful.

The dinner was prepared and served by the girls of the Home Economics Department of the school, under the direction of Miss Edyth Volkwein, and was done most efficiently. On the menu were creamed chicken, mashed potatoes, buttered peas, rolls, jelly, pickles, coffee, ice cream and chocolate cake.

As the guests took their places around the banquet tables, a band composed of members of the F. F. A. played.

Lipp Is Toastmaster

Robert Lipp, president of the Chapter performed in the role of toastmaster, and directed the program of the evening.

After singing of "America," the invocation was given by Rev. Ray G. Woodburn, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, of Mt. Jackson. Address of welcome was made by Clair Paden, representing the Chapter.

Will Continue Nine Months' Pay Plan For City Teachers

With the passage of the Teachers' Tenure Act by the Pennsylvania General Assembly, it will be necessary for the New Castle School Board, along with other boards in the state, to have new contracts prepared covering the agreement between the board and teachers.

Solicitor William J. Moffatt gave the board a digest of the new act Wednesday night at the meeting of the school board, in which he set out the duties of the board as regards teachers under the new act. About the only thing the board has to do is to decide whether the teachers will be paid monthly or semi-monthly during the school year or whether they will be paid during each month of the calendar year.

Teachers' Poll

The matter of paying the teachers each month of the year instead of paying their entire salaries in the nine months of the school year was discussed. A letter was received from Miss Helen A. Maxwell, president of the local chapter of the P. S. E. A. In the letter Miss Maxwell said that a poll of the teachers in New Castle had been taken and the figures showed 227 in favor of the nine month pay plan and 109 in favor of the 12 month plan.

"What advantage would there be to the board in the 12 payment plan of paying salaries?" asked A. C. Hyde.

Duff raised the question of when the salaries would start under such

Wholesale Drug Firm Is Given To 115 Workers

Boss Just Walks Out And Says "Here It Is Boys" Will Go Fishing

(International News Service)

MILWAUKEE, April 15.—Having yielded to the demands of striking workers that he resign, President Fred E. Yahr today surrendered the management of Yahr Lange, Inc., wholesale drug firm, to his former employes.

A one-day sitdown strike of 115 workers caused Yahr, 65 years old, to hand his resignation to the board of directors and announce that he is leaving on a fishing trip to be followed by a voyage to Europe.

Yahr, who had been president of the firm for 18 years and associated with it for 37 years, said he would continue as a major stockholder. He added:

"I am happy and satisfied with the deal. I feel I have been here long enough. The employes likewise are satisfied with the agreement.. I have turned the business over to the employes to run."

Roy Lockard Is Granted Respite

Governor Earle Snatches "Baby Killer" From Shadow Of Electric Chair Today

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 15—For the third time, Roy Lockard, Altoona WPA worker, found himself snatched from the shadow of the electric chair.

Lockard, who was to have been executed during the week beginning May 3, was granted a respite by Gov. George H. Earle to the week beginning Monday, June 28.

Lockard, with his paramour, Mrs. Margaret Karmendi, was convicted of the "railroad spike" slaying of the young woman's three-year old son, Matthew, to hush the possible tattling on the couple's clandestine love affair.

The respite was granted, the governor said, because Mrs. Karmendi's appeal, her second one, is still pending before the state supreme court.

Mrs. Karmendi's plea for a retrial was turned down by Judge Marion D. Patterson, of Blair county, recently. She was granted a new trial by the supreme court, but was convicted a second time.

Baltimore And Ohio Vets Cook And Serve Dinner At Legion Home Last Evening

"There's a creature downstairs in a brown suit who says she is connected with the railroad business in some vague way."

"Must be that news reporter who used to hang around the B. & O. station. Wonder what she wants?"

"She said something about always having liked the smell of fish . . . "

"Dust her off and send her right up."

And that is one way of getting in on the famous dinner gatherings of the Baltimore & Ohio Veterans association and Ladies' Auxiliary in the second floor dining room of the Legion Home. You've got to be 20 years in the service to belong, but sometimes a "special guest" can angle an invitation, and sisters, it is a real experience and something to write to your editor about, for the dinners are always the best and the crowd is just the friendliest you ever saw.

Men Do Cooking

Between the first and second helpings last night this writer took time to ask just one question of T. N. Hockman, one of the committeemen, who happened to be nearby: "Is it true that the men prepared this dinner all by themselves?"

It was true. Once a year the veterans do the cooking for a big feast and their ladies have nothing to do but sit down and enjoy it.

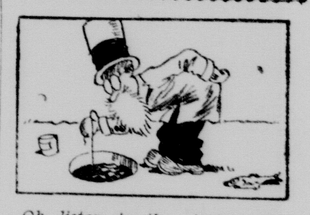

On the plates last evening were delicious filling fried filets, fried potatoes, cole slaw (the inevitable menu partner of fish) sliced ham and an assortment of olives, peppers (hot as hot), pickles and cheeses. Apple pie for dessert. And everything was done up right.

Guests numbered somewhere near the 100 mark, and not an unsatisfied customer in the carload. They all applauded enthusiastically when Mrs. C. J. Bernhart, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, asked for a rising vote of thanks to the committeemen.

In addition to the members there were some guests, and a few of them

Oh listen to the stories of the fisherman today and listen to descriptions of the one that got away. It was a mammoth trout it seems, six feet or longer it would be, a fish too large for any stream most large enough to fit a sea. He hooked it in a limpid brook, and then the fish began to fight, he fought it manfully a while, his arm was tense his line was tight. When suddenly it rose in air and snapped the line that was in play, and nearly drowned my fishing friend, the weather's sixty-one today.

POLICE EJECT SIT-DOWNERS

Use Tear Gas At Detroit Plant

Over 100 Arrested After Battle At Yale And Towne Lock Plant

FIFTEEN ARE STILL HELD BY POLICE

(International News Service)

DETROIT, April 15.—The most serious violence since the wave of sit-down strikes hit Detroit left scores injured or suffering from the effects of tear gas today after police forcibly ejected sit-down strikers from the Yale and Towne Lock plant here yesterday and broke up a mob gathering to "recapture" the factory.

Seventy-nine women and 41 men strikers arrested after a desperate, 40-minute battle with 400 police were released during the night on bonds totaling $8,050, pending their appearance in court today on contempt of court charges growing out of their refusal to obey a court order to evacuate.

Fifteen unionists, including Walter and Victor Reuther, brothers and crack organizers for the United Automobile Workers Union, were still held. They were arrested when police charged a mob of several hundred which, police claimed, was gathering to retake the plant. A union sound truck also was seized.

Expect Appeal

The strikers were members of the U. A. W., and the police attack on them marked the first time Detroit authorities had moved in such a fashion against a C. I. O. union here. The U. A. W., after furnishing the $8,050 bonds for release of the arrested strikers, was expected to appeal to the National Labor Relations board under the Wagner act today.

There were two separate clashes between police and unionists and their sympathizers. The first came when more than 400 police and deputy sheriffs gathered to serve an eviction order issued by Circuit Judge Arthur Webster.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Bernard McGrath, waving a legal paper, stood in the street before the two-story lock plant and shouted to the strikers who had held the plant for 37 days:

"Come out like ladies and gentlemen, we don't want any trouble."

Deputies charged that strikers on the roof of the factory then began pelting officers with scraps of metal. Police then began firing tear gas shells into the plant. More than 200 tear gas shells were discharged.

Police charged that unidentified strikers began firing at them with a gun from inside the factory. They pointed to four small round holes in a window of the plant today as proof the strikers had been armed with at least one gun.

They were W. C. Baker of Akron, O., superintendent of the Akron-Chicago division, and, from New Castle, R. B. Fisher, general car foreman; I. L. Harper, general foreman of the B. & O. shops, and J. F. Cable, terminal superintendent.

Men who were at the stove throttles and on the table "runs" were George Wyman, chairman; Oscar Murphy, Ed. Scanlon, T. N. Hockman, M. Whalen, Herbert Dungan, James DeGenario, Ray Walker, Roy Irwin and Joe Pluzak. They deserved a great big hand, and got it.

Immediately after dinner business meetings were conducted by the men's and women's organizations in separate chambers, with Ray Walker, acting president, in charge of the men , and Mrs. Bernhart presiding over the women.

Later 500 and bingo were enjoyed. The bingo prizes went to William Mulcahy and Mrs. William Klingensmith, and the 500 to Mrs. Ray Walker and Mrs. I. C. Bowman.

John B. Bechtol, secretary of the board, said that it would mean a temporary savings to the board in that the first year the board would pay out only five-sixths of the budgeted expenditures and that the other sixth would be coming out of the following year.

and will be submitted to contractors soon. It is expected that work will start in the near future.

The property adjoins the former silk mill building of the Garland company and includes all the land between the P. & L. E. railroad and the Beaver river north of the silk mill building.

The plant itself will be located near the river and ample space is available for extensive coal storage adjacent to the proposed plant.

Work Starts Soon

It is expected that the work of clearing the land preparatory to excavating will commence almost immediately and within the near future the big construction job will be under way.

The site is an excellent one for a steam power plant. It is located on two railroads with an adequate and dependable supply of water and ample space for expansion. It will permit the erection of a modern and efficient station.

Test holes drilled on the property indicate a solid stone substrata close to the surface, such a condition being essential to the type of heavy construction involved.

It is understood that plans and specifications for the building are nearing completion and will be submitted to contractors soon.

Reapportionment is to take place after every decennial census. So says the 1874 state constitution. Since 1921, however, the legislators have turned their backs to the matter. This year, however, David L. Lawrence, secretary of the commonwealth—and state Democratic chairman—has been pressing the issue.

The measure was expected to develop "embarrassing squabbles, both on the floors of the senate and house and in the caucus rooms and committees.

THE SAFE, SENSIBLE WAY TO RELIEVE CONSTIPATION

Every one knows the dangers of constipation. Pills and drugs usually bring only temporary relief. That's because common constipation is due to meals low in "bulk."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains "bulk" that does not break down in the body as does that of many leafy vegetables. ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water and forms a soft mass that gently sponges the intestines.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a food—not a medicine. In addition to "bulk"—it gives vitamin B to tone up the system, and iron for the blood. It is a healthful way to get rid of constipation and all its evils.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily with milk or cream—three times a day in severe cases. Or use it in making bran muffins, breads, in salads or soups. Guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SILVER TEA PARTY OUTSTANDING EVENT

One of the most outstanding and successful social events of the early spring was a silver tea party Wednesday evening, in Christ Lutheran church, East Washington and Beckford streets, which was sponsored by the Ladies' Aid Society.

In the neighborhood of 100 guests attended, enjoying a delightful evening amid a springtime setting in the social rooms which were transformed into a bower of beauty with green and other colors, spring accents.

Small tables at which tea was served, were replicas of miniature gardens as they were adorned with tiny trees, gaily colored birds and nut cups in flower forms. In addition, the places were marked with miniature umbrellas to prepare the guests for typical April showers.

The program consisted of musical selections by Anna Stevas and Dorothy Schmidt, a recitation and song by Barbara Goetz and a group of several tea songs by four young girls, Olga Gunther, Elizabeth Shane, Wilhelmina Schenker and Emma Gunther. Miss Margaret Leonhardt was at the piano for this part of the appropriate program.

A short playlet entitled "The Wrong Package" was presented as a further contribution to the entertainment with the following cast performing remarkably well: Mrs. A. Ziegler, Misses Kathryn Reiter, Wilhelmina Leonhardt and Mrs. George Schlumberger.

Much credit for last night's silver tea is reflected upon a capable committee composed of Mrs. W. R. Sommerfield, Mrs. A. Zeigler, Mrs. L. Koski and Mrs. E. Gunther.

CALL FOR REAL FRIENDS

THE current scattered observance of Be Kind to Animals Week is properly scheduled in the spring when many animals are giving birth to young, when domestic pets wander further from cozy hearthstones to forage and explore, when householders are planning vacations and a summer exodus, and when warm weather brings to the fore such problems as thirst-quenching and disease possibilities.

The movement to renew demonstrated kindness to our dumb friends is actuated by both logic and sentiment. The latter is natural, the former evident to all who offer more than perfunctory lip service to the cause.

The least any true friend of animals can do is to co-operate in the proper licensing of dogs, keeping pets from becoming nuisances to others, protecting them on the highways, seeing that they are cared for when homes are closed for the summer, providing suitable food and drink, preventing and curing warm weather ailments and eliminating them mercifully but completely when they become menaces.

Sentimentality over animals connotes little unless it is backed up demonstrably. And it is fitting that during one week a year special attention is thus called to the helpless creatures so dependent on man's kindness.

WHAT RAILROADS MEAN

The tremendous importance of the railroads to the other industries of the nation, is illustrated by statistics detailing their buying during 1936.

In that year, they spent more than $534,000,000 for materials and supplies, more than $192,000,000 for new locomotives and cars, and over $255,000,000 for coal and fuel oil. Their direct purchases thus totaled almost a billion dollars—$982,204,000, to be exact.

A list of the industries that share in the fruits of this almost inconceivable private spending, would fill many pages. The railroads use about 70,000 separate commodities. They are among the best customers of all the commodity industries—textiles, metals, coal—as well as manufacturing industries. Thus, their influence on employment conditions can hardly be exaggerated. Directly, in normal times, they are the largest single employer in the nation—and indirectly, they provide employment for untold thousands of workers in the industries they patronize.

AND NOW "WALL STREET NECK"

Why the latest fashionable ailment, caused by sitting at a desk all day, should be called "Wall Street neck" may puzzle even experts in terminology. For financiers are not the only office workers who are susceptible to this minor but annoying affliction.

The "ticker eye" and the "coupon thumb" have a more logical explanation, especially since the stock market has become more active than in the depression doldrums. "Clergyman's sore throat" has long been recognized by specialists as not confined to gentlemen of the cloth, but as liable to be incurred by baseball fans along about the sixth inning.

As for "housemaid's knee," that veteran standby of professional humorists has virtually disappeared, thanks not to the medicos, but to the modern domestic appliances for making housework easier.

But with the advent of spring weather an epidemic of "gardener's back" is to be expected, especially among residents whose wives think that hard exercise in the open is a sure cure for all the ills to which humanity is heir.

GUARD AGAINST FIRE

Civilization began with the discovery of fire by prehistoric man. And for many a human being, civilization, so far as he personally was concerned, has ended with a fire!

It is a curious truism that one of man's essential aides is likewise, under other circumstances, one of man's worst enemies. Controlled fire is a boon. Uncontrolled fire is a destroying demon.

The problem of controlling fire is as old as history. Immense progress has been made in the direction of perfecting fire-fighting apparatus and equipment, and developing materials that resist fire. The fire department of yesterday is a ludicrous thing in comparison to the amazingly efficient fire department of today, even as the building construction of yesterday offered a veritable invitation to fire.

Aggressive effort has been given in recent years toward educating the public in preventing fire—and here, too, progress has been made, but on nowhere near a comparable scale. Some of us have learned the simple lessons that will eliminate most hazards—many of us have not. It is a safe bet that at least one home out of two—and this includes new as well as old ones—contains flagrant hazards which the owner disregards.

Each year, loss running into the millions results from improper storage of inflammable liquids, from needless accumulations of waste, from amateur tampering with electric fixtures, from carelessness with smoking materials. Such "little" things as these are responible for a majority of all fires.

Remember that fire is a good friend—employed respectfully. Take no chances with it. Care will save you dollars—and, infinitely more important, perhaps your life.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Wallace Beery explains the difference between reel and real life: "If an actor plays lazy roles people think he's that way in real life. They've got me spotted as an off-time loafer, yet I'm the busiest guy on earth between pictures."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PRAISE SMALL COLLEGES

NOT LONG ago I spent two busy days in my native state of Pennsylvania, making six speeches in three cities, York, Pottstown and Philadelphia. With heavy work also came great pleasures.

The first night I spent in the home of a college mate. The second at the home of a college classmate whose wife graduated the next year after we did. In the first family were two young children about eight and five. In the second, two youths from thirteen to eighteen. As in the Myers family, the "middle-size bear" is a girl.

In both these families there was fine consideration by each parent for the other parent, by the parents for the children, and vice versa. I was allowed to talk to the children. The children were not interrupted by their parents. We were permitted to carry on conversations freely. An atmosphere of mutual trust and understanding seemed to prevail in both families. In both, the parents cherish the ideals of their own parents. In both the children are learning the basic principles of good character and citizenship—restraint and co-operation.

My visit with the two families helped to confirm my faith that, despite the many wrecks, the family as an institution is destined to endure. I felt assured that there must be many, many families in our nation in which the personality of each member is treated with very great regard by every other member. I felt assured, moreover, that nothing can surpass wholesome family life for affording and furthering real, lasting happiness.

Exchange Information

And in both families the parents and I exchanged information about others in college when we were there. It was so small that we could know everybody. We observed that those who married, some having matched at college, seemed to be enjoying happy family life. We did not recall a single home broken by divorce—and that's a record in these days.

Ours was Ursinus college, one of those many small co-educational colleges throughout our country founded, and still partly supported, by one of the 57 varieties of, not pickles, but Protestants. I met my wife at Ursinus and am, therefore, very partial to co-educational colleges, and to this one especially. The percentage of successful marriages from matches made at such colleges, of those made elsewhere, indeed by their graduates, is very much higher than for the country's total college population. There are figures on this, though I cannot recall them.

Of course, these colleges select largely from homes in which family integrity prevails. They help conserve and further ideals of family life. I wish they would work harder at it and, having set high standards of scholarship, would count their successes chiefly in terms of the number of their graduates who eventually share in permanent and wholesome family life.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

THE MAN WHO BECAME HUMAN

The man was very sure of himself. He had always felt "sure", felt that he was stronger and wiser than other men. He did not make the mistakes that they did. He saw his path more clearly than they seemed to see theirs, walked it more steadily, never wandered away from it into any bog or quicksand, never messed up his life as so many others seemed to do.

Sometimes when he thought of himself and his position, he seemed to be standing on a peak above the rest of human beings, without their weaknesses and without their stupidities . . . He felt superior, felt apart from the common species . . . So he had little sympathy for them. Those others were such children, such inadequate creatures, so weakly adapted to the business of being alive—which was so complicated and difficult for them, so simple and easy for him.

It occurred to him occasionally that he had no friends, but he would tell himself that he needed none . . . His standards were too high. A friend for him should be his equal, standing on a level with himself, as strong as himself, as much a master of his life . . . And if you had hinted to him that he was a lonely man, he would have denied it coldly. He might be alone, but he was never lonely.

But when he was 60 years old he made a great, costly and humiliating mistake. It cost him money, cost others money, and because he had gone against the advice of his associates with the cold arrogance that was characteristic of him, the responsibility for it was squarely on his shoulders. . . . He accepted that load manfully, but he was never the same again.

There were sneers, of course, and some cruel laughter, and he endured that punishment, too. Without resentment because he was essentially a just man. . . . And little by little he began to judge other human beings less harshly. When he accused a man of imperfection, he would say, "But neither am I perfect." If he detected a bit of stupidity, he'd remember his own great stupidity.

So he came closer to the crowd, descended from his chilly peak and grew in friendliness as he grew in wisdom. And from that time on The Man was happier than he had ever been.

He understood that he hadn't been a MAN until he made that bad mistake.

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

Jones: "How do you spend your income?"

Smith: "That's right."

The slot machines are terrible in the South, particularly in Florida. We have seen men and women work them for hours or as long as their money lasted. Florida pays it's school teachers with the tax from slot machines and suckers from the north furnish the money.

College Man: "What would you like, dear?"

NO MATTER how beautiful and expensive your furniture may be, its effect will be lost and your room will be unattractive unless you have the knack and knowledge of arranging it properly.

How often do we enter rooms that we should just love to rearrange? While in them, we have no such feeling of peace and ease as we invariably have in the rooms of a home-maker with a sense of rhythm.

Study your rooms and your furnishings. Pick out a point of interest and accentuate it by grouping your furniture so that the eye will be carried directly toward it. It should be the point which you consider to be the room's outstanding feature.

This may be your fireplace, a group of windows, a bookcase or a grand piano. Whatever it is, it must dominate everything else in the room.

Rooms arranged without this consideration look disjointed and have a haphazard effect, completely lacking in livableness. Furniture that is properly grouped will create an atmosphere of tranquillity and sociability and do much toward establishing ease in conversation when you have guests.

The World At A Glance

Peace Conference Useless.
Present Time Is Inopportune.
Europe May Have Democracies.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

WE WERE TALKING with a brilliant woman on peace the other night—a woman who was born in Europe, but who has lived in the United States a long time.

"Should the United States try to call a peace or disarmament conference in Europe?" she echoed our question.

"No—not now," she responded. "It would be useless. Worse, it would betray to the world the inability of the most powerful force for peace to obtain peace. People would become discouraged; they would listen to ridicule of the 'foolish nation'; peace would be derided; it would be further away, an illusion."

* * *

THE PATH?

This cosmopolitan woman hesitated a moment, then continued:

"Cooling of the hatreds, the prejudices—calm, clear thinking, education must be the road to peace.

"Dictators will fall when people once again reason clearly, when intolerance has galled them into action.

"The world does not remain the same. Nor is tyranny long accepted. The world that we should set out to reform today may be an entirely different world tomorrow. It is dangerous to make definite commitments.

The United States can make its greatest contribution toward peace by removing whatever barriers it has that create intolerance and prejudice and maladjustments."

* * *

DISARM? NO!

"Should the United States try to prove that peace is the way by disarming?

"That would be folly. The mad men merely would jeer. American prestige would fall to a low level.

"The world ought to disarm, yes—and some day it may. But as long as people live in the darkness of prejudice, as long as the light of education does not penetrate, and as long as their rulers are armed to the teeth, how can the remainder of us disarm?

"It is true, nevertheless, that our real strength will lie in our own overcoming of prejudices, our own broadened view."

* * *

IN THE END—

"Will there be victory for democracy?"

"Yes, I believe so. I look for Germany and Italy to become democracies within a few years. Perhaps the Germans will overthrow Nazism before Italy overthrows Fascism, for the German people at heart are liberty loving.

"In fact, I believe the peoples of all countries are evolving through various means a new concept of government. It may not be the correct, workable formula yet—undoubtedly it will not be—but a change is being effected. The United States no less than other countries is undergoing this same change—in fact, I believe, in a larger degree than elsewhere at the moment."

A BRIEF SPACE

"You speak of the hold the dictators seem to have. Do you not recall Napoleon, who swept through all of continental Europe? Yet the space of time he occupies in history is but a minute. The dictators of today, less potent, will pass from the scene even more swiftly.

"The power of today, the wealth of today, lies with the democracies. In Napoleon's day, England bided her time, as the powerful always do for time is with them, and Napoleon walked eventually straight into her clutches and the jaws of fate. The alliance today of the British, the French and the Soviet Union can bide its time. For the hourglass of these nations is filling, while the sands of time drain from the hourglasses of the nations who oppose them.

"And strength lies with the United States if it does not intrude, but lives a wholesome, broad-minded, unprejudiced life."

QUESTIONING

Forever man questions life's meaning and never there comes a reply.
Forever he shatters the silence with "What am I doing and why?"
He seeks for some loftier purpose which never he's able to find;
Some ultimate goal which he fancies may give him contentment of mind.

He discovers that pleasure is fleeing; the joy of achievement is small;
That men in high places grow weary and sick of the sham of it all;
That life is but eating and drinking and working the long years away
And little is altered or bettered, let him struggle however he may.

So simply this life has been fashioned that never believe it we can
That all this old earth has to offer is the common experience of man;
That bearing his burdens with courage, being patient and kindly and true,
And sharing his joys with his fellows is all that God wants him to do.

Today's Yesterdays—April 15, 1814—John Lathrop Motley was born in Dorchester, Mass., a son of a merchant. Sickly, he educated himself, became an insatiable reader, early formed the determination to write a history of the Dutch Republic. At 32, after having authored a pair of unsuccessful novels, he began the history. He was 10 years in completing it, and then he was unable to find a publisher. He had to have it printed at his own expense.

Yet today Motley's 1,500-page The Rise of the Dutch Republic is universally regarded as one of the world's enduring classics.

April 15, 1854—The American Camel Co., was chartered in New York with a capital stock of $100,000, to import camels from Central Asia for sale throughout the West—as beasts of burden.

A few had already been tried out there. They were faster and had more endurance than mules, could carry an average of 700 pounds each while making 80 miles a day, and could go without water.

Edward F. Beale, the naval officer who first broached the idea, said: "I look forward to the day when every mail route across the continent will be conducted and worked altogether with this economical and Noble brute."

The Army imported 100 camels and organized a camel corps; a detail of it was first to explore Death Valley, California. The animals came into possession of the Confederacy at the outbreak of war, and were used to transport cotton and salt between the Mexican border at Brownsville and the Gulf.

The war and the completion of transcontinental railroads caused development of camel use to be abandoned. But for years thereafter, camels ran wild in many western states. In 1875, the Nevada legislature passed a law for eradication of this four-legged pest.

25 Years Ago Today—The world's largest ship, the British liner Titanic, sank at 2:18 a. m., two hours and 38 minutes after it struck an iceberg, and carried 1,500 to death.

There are persons alive today who went down on the Titanic. They were forced up to the surface by compressed air, managed to grasp floating wreckage, were rescued.

Until late on the 15th the public had only meager details. The wireless companies were giving out no information, the shipping line would not amplify its one early bulletin. While other reporters hung around New York helplessly, Gill went by train to Cape Cod, where the main wireless station of the Marconi company was located. Gill had been a wireless operator; he guessed that at such a

A citizen of Los Angeles, California, is now visiting New York for the first time. Now, pedestrian traffic in California cities is directed by the same signals as vehicle traffic. If you cross a street against the signal, you are liable to arrest and will be arrested if the policeman sees you do it.

The Californian is, therefore, very much impressed with the manner in which New York pedestrians treat traffic in their native city. He writes:

"Traffic here roars as usual but flows as easily and steadily as a mountain stream on its way to the sea. Particularly, north and south traffic, which moves along ten blocks or so at a time. A car traveling north or south on the main Manhattan streets rolls on at forty or more miles an hour, just as if on a State Highway. However, the pedestrian doesn't get such a good break when going east or west. He has to wait while auto traffic passes. This wait is so long one is inclined to think it would be a good idea to have sidewalk cafes on every corner so pedestrians could sit down

Thrills All In Day's Work With Lawrence Deegan

Local Man Has Been Engaged In Structural Work For Many Years Without Injury

Thrills are all in a day's work with Lawrence Deegan, who is associated with N. P. Woodward, in structural work and industrial painting.

Mr. Deegan made light of the escape he had the other day while razing the elevator shaft at the St. Cloud building, when a pipe which was supporting his weight, broke, forcing him to grasp the uprights in the elevator shaft to keep from falling to the ground below.

"It's just one of the chances a fellow takes," Deegan stated, and enumerated a number of close calls he has had during the fifteen years he has been following that line of work.

They had just completed razing one of the largest smoke stacks in the state of Pennsylvania at Johnstown, before going on the local job. He did admit, however, that the job of razing the shaft here was a mean one.

Mr. Deegan has worked on Boulder dam, and has scaled heights of 1,300 feet. He stated that he figured one fall would be just as bad as another after one got up to a height of 35 feet, which is one reason why extreme height does not bother him.

The only fall that Deegan has ever suffered was when he fell out of a chestnut tree while still a boy.

Two Verdicts Are Returned In Court

Two verdicts were reported in the Lawrence County courthouse today both in cases which finished on Wednesday.

In the case of Robert G. Love and his wife Harriet Love of Greenville against Louis Fusco of New Castle in which damages of $1050 were asked, an award of $66.25 was made to the plaintiff. With the case also was tried the case of Ben F. Love, a minor, by his parents Robert and Harriet Love and Robert G. Love, in which $3300 damages were asked. A total of $200 was awarded in this suit. The suits arose out of an automobile accident on North Highland extension June 30, 1935 when the cars of the two litigants crashed and injuries and damages claimed by the plaintiffs.

In the case of Charles A. Steel against Adolph Green, for $3605, a verdict was rendered for the defendant giving nothing to Steele. This was a case where the plaintiff claims he left a job as bank examiner to present Shakesperean drama with Mr. Green acting as a partner in the work.

Muskingum Man To Fill Church Ppulpit

Dr. Losh, Recently Named To College Staff, Will Be At Third U. P.

Dr. George L. Losh, recently appointed to the administrative staff of Muskingum college, will fill the pulpit of the Rev. Chester T. R. Yeates at the Third U. P. church on Sunday, April 18. He will preach morning and evening.

Dr. Losh in the past has been serving as pastor of a large Methodist church at Urbana, Ill., and in recent years he has been engaged in college and church financing. He came to Muskingum from Elmhurst college, Elmhurst, Ill.

At Muskingum at New Concord, O., Dr. Losh is in charge of the J. Knox Montgomery Memorial Centennial fund, the fund which is to be a memorial to the late president and is intended to raise $1,000,000 for Muskingum's endowment this year.

Lawyers of Sydney, N. S. W., have been asked by Father P. Murphy, prominent Catholic clergyman, to "refuse to have hand, act, or part in divorce proceedings."

Parent-Teacher Associations

NESHANNOCK P. T. A.

Members of the Neshannock township Parent-Teachers association met Tuesday evening, in the school building, with the president, Mrs. M. S. Curran, in charge. The meeting opened with pep singing by the group under the direction of Miss Ida Mayberry, music instructor at George Washington junior high school.

Meeting was later turned over to the program committee which was led by Mrs. M. J. McCluskey. Professor B. K. Thacker was introduced as guest speaker of the evening, and he delivered a talk on, "Courses and Adolscence Problems". Miss Betty Glover and Miss Mayberry both gave short talks and added entertainment to their portion of the program with several songs and oral skits.

During the business meet the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Herbert Kirk; vice president, Mrs. W. C. Hileman; secretary, Mrs. Nelson English; treasurer, Roy Grafton; Lawrence County council, Walter Hoskins.

At the close of the meeting, the hostesses served a most tempting menu. Next meeting will be on Tuesday, October 12, in the school.

GIRL SCOUTS

OUTDOOR MEET HELD

The regular meeting of Troop 8 was held on Tuesday evening, out of doors instead of in the regular meeting quarters. The girls hoped to have a chance to study the stars but the night was too cloudy to see many of the twinkling objects.

Songs were the main feature of the evening, and various games helped to while away a great deal of the time. Meeting closed with the singing of taps.

Scribe, Molly Culliford.

TROOP TWO MEETS

Troop Two Girl Scouts met in the Highland school, Tuesday evening, under the leadership of Edith Cleveland and Ione Farver.

The first portion of the meeting was held out-of-doors with the playing of games featuring. Upon returning to the school building, announcements were made, and Ione Farver read an interesting story.

Patrol corners were held and business transacted. Miss Farver instructed a group of girls in judging and Miss Sankey taught them about the stars. Meeting closed with taps.

Scribe, Martha Lawrence.

POKONOKET TROOP

Girl Scouts of Troop 13 met in the Second U. P. church, recently for their regular weekly session. Patrol corners were held, followed by interest groups. Signalling was taught by Beatrice Conner, and Dorothy McConnell instructed the girls in Tenderfoot work.

A number of the girls passed their requirements for fire building, and included: Charlotte Heath, Dorothy McConnel, Peggy Rowland, Agnes Mae Baker, Juniata Foster. Streets and Allies was played for a short time. The following passed their sewing examinations; Joan Baldauf, Juniata Foster, Peggy Rowland and Irene Hemming.

Meeting closed with taps, and was followed with a court of honor session.

Scribe, Janet Hanna.

DOGWOOD TROOP

"In some sections traffic as far as pedestrian is concerned remains as it was. That is you don't have to wait for the light if you don't want to. For years the gendarmes tried to make New Yorkers obey light signals at certain intersections and it couldn't be done. This is particularly true of those intersections leading to railroad stations. When a New Yorker wants to catch a train he just won't let a little thing like a traffic light or the chance of losing his life stop him. It is fascinating o see some of these experienced jay-runners negotiate a crossing. Red Grange, Eckersall, Jim Thorpe or any of the immortal broken football field runners are just not in it with these fellows.

"I used to be a pretty good traffic dodger myself. Every Brooklynite is. That is why they call the Brooklyn ball team "The Dodgers." Haven't tried my traffic dodging form out but have been doing a little subway riding training. After only about eighty elbow digs and ninety shoves from the rear I begin to wince. Also I am missing doors. I had the doors slammed on me five times yesterday and another time nearly had my neck caught in one.

"There are 450 mounted policemen here. Use western horses, costing $250 apiece, about the same price Joe E. Brown pays for a race horse. These cops are used mostly for riot calls in which one mounted officer is considered worth ten on the ground . . . Street cars have been taken off many of the main streets and busses substituted. Marvelous chance and has increased property values tremendously. Elevated roads will be next to come down.

SOME WOMEN WORRY ABOUT THEIR FIGURES—

Others drink milk!

What would you like to weigh? Here's the world's simplest method of weight control—recommended by one of America's leading food scientists.

To reduce—Drink a glass of milk before each meal. The milk supplies the nutriment you need, and cuts down the appetite which is probably responsible for your overweight.

To gain weight—Drink a glass of milk after each meal. The milk furnishes the extra calories you need, without undue strain on the digestion.

Let us begin delivery of Rieck's Sealtest Milk—with its uniform food value, purity and cleanness assured by Sealtest approval. Telephone New Castle 2500, order from your Rieck's milkman, or ask at your favorite store.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Postal Service Getting Worse

Attempt To Make Service Pay Is Blamed For Disruption Of Service

SUBSIDIES, FREE SERVICE HINDRANCE

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The postal service is becoming so bad that its badness is attracting attention in congress.

Suggestions are made that it needs investigating.

There is no dispute that it IS bad—awful. Everyone who tries to depend on it (meaning EVERYONE) says so. Post office workers say so more emphatically than anyone else.

From as far back as I can remember until the end of the administration of Postmaster General Harry S. New it was a service which improved steadily. It began to deteriorate with the advent of Postmaster General Walter F. Brown. By the end of his term it had reached a point where many folk said it could not be worse. They were mistaken. It has continued to degenerate a-plenty under the auspices of Postmaster General James A. Farley.

* * *

WHAT'S WRONG?

"What's the matter with it?" I asked President Luther S. Steward of the National Federation of Federal Employes, once himself a postal worker.

"Well," he answered, "it is the result of an attempt to transform what ought to be a 'public service', entitled to be supported—of course as economically as possible—into a money-making enterprise; at least an institution able to break even.

"And it has been required to meet a lot of charges that never should have been assessed against it."

* * *

SUBSIDIES HURT

"For example," continued Steward, "the government, trying to build up an American merchant fleet, has paid enormously to our shipping companies for mail carrying—hundreds of dollars per letter.

"Mail-carrying airplanes have been similarly supported.

"I do not say that these allowances were unwarranted, but they should have been classified as subsidies—not chalked up against the post office department.

"Government mail is franked by the ton.

"This may be justifiable, but the post office department, alone, should not be expected to bear the financial burden of transporting it."

* * *

"EFFICIENCY," TOO

"In the face of all these levies," went on the federal employes' spokesman, "the department has been called on to hold down expenses.

"So-called efficiency methods have been resorted to.

"They look all right on paper, but they disregard the human equation.

"Mail carriers' hours were cut from 44 hours weekly to 40. The department undertook to absorb this difference without much increase in personnel. The individual carrier had his route added to two or three times a week—and wasn't familiar with the names and addresses of his new, occasional customers.

"In my day in the service mail was sorted in transit.

"Now it is delivered bodily at terminals, leaving local staffs to do the worrying."

* * *

AIR MAIL ALSO TARDY

"Air mail isn't all that it is cracked up to be, either," complained Steward.

"If it has good luck it comes rapidly. But suppose the weather is bad. Then it is grounded. It becomes delayed, not preferred mail. After which, the carrier, on a strange route, gums his deliveries.

"In my office building, we tenants sort our mail among ourselves after we get it."

* * *

FARLEY DOES NOT INTERFERE

"Seniority rights," said Luther, "have been very strictly observed under the Farley regime.

Promotions have been exceptionally free from political influence."

It has been asserted that Postmaster General Farley, his attention distracted by his political duties, has contributed, by his neglect, to the mail service's degeneration.

"My experience," rejoined Luther Steward, "has been that, the less a cabinet member butts into his departmental affairs, but leaves them to experts to attend to, the better."

Melvin Purvis To Wed April 29

Big Church Wedding Is Being Lined Up For Former "G" Man And Film Beauty

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 14.—A "church wedding" with all the pomp he sought to avoid as a "G" Man, was announced Wednesday for Melvin Purvis, Dillinger's nemesis.

Swank invitations received from Mrs. Col. Devereaux Jarrett set the crime hero's marriage to beauteous Miss Janice Jarrett for 8:30 on April 29 in St. Mark's church, San Antonio, Texas.

Miss Jarrett, known as the "most photographed model" and twice named the "typical American girl," is now in pictures, having last appeared in "Top of the Town."

Purvis, who resigned from the G-Men because of too much publicity after the bloody trap in which he caught John Dillinger, is now a practicing attorney in San Francisco. The couple will be at home here after June 1.

Stamp Notes

According to the latest reports from England the new Coronation stamps will go on sale May 10, just two days before the coronation ceremonies take place at Westminster Abbey. At the present time new stamps are planned by all of the Brish possessions honoring the new royal family of England.

The United States Government's specially created office for stamp collectors, the Philatelic Department at Washington, D. C., has reported that March, 1937, has been a banner month for sales. The receipts from stamp sales during March reached a high of $239,809.52. This is the largest monthly sale this fiscal year, that started July 1, 1936.

This philatelic department of the government, mentioned in the above note, is in existance for the sole use of collectors and the sale of these stamps is nearly entirely to collectors and dealers whether by mail order or over the counter at Washington. The department office is located in the Ben Franklin office in the capital city.

A display of postage stamp collections is planned for the hobby show scheduled for the free public library during the week of April 24 to May 1. This week, being celebrated as Boys' and Girls' week throughout the country, will have a hobby show as one of the main events.

Due to the fact that the present common issue of postage adhesives was printed during 1922 and 1923, and have been in use ever since, suffering very little change, gives good reason to expect a complete new issue of the common variety stamps, used in the daily routine of business, within a short time. Wise collectors have already stocked up on this material, while others in their mad scramble to secure the new commemoratives have completely avoided purchasing the more common stock and before long will find it necessary to cater to dealers in order to complete their collections.

If John L. Lewis keeps growing. Tories who now fear Roosevelt may pray for him to come back and be dictator.

Pennsy Lets Big Contract

Pennsylvania Railroad Contract For New Equipment Totals $10,750,000

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 15.—The board of directors of the Pennsylvania railroad Wednesday authorized the construction of $10,750,000 worth of new railroad equipment.

The lion's share of the work will be done in the company's Altoona plant, where 2,800 new steel freight cars and the chassis for 11 new electric passenger locomotives will be built from electrical parts supplied by electrical manufacturing companies.

Lots Of Work

The construction work, the railroad reported, will provide more than 5,000,000 man hours of work for employes of the Altoona shop and those of mills and other industries supplying the electrical apparatus for the locomotives and materials and parts for the freight cars.

The new locomotives will be added to the fleet of 78 electric engines already in use on the carrier's electrified system and will provide the motive power required for the extension of the electrification now under way between Paoli and Harrisburg.

The directors authorized a new equipment trust to finance all but 150 box cars. The latter will be paid for out of an unexpended balance remaining from the sale of equipment trusts issued in 1935 to finance the 10,000 new freight cars recently constructed.

Hobby Show Will Feature Youth's Week At Library

Hobby Riders Will Have Interesting Display Arranged In Public Library

To be featured during the celebration of Boys' and Girls' week here during the week of April 24 to May 1 will be a hobby show, sponsored by the public library and to be displayed at the library building. According to Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian, many hobbies will be represented by models, collections, samples and other types of displays during the week.

Miss Joyce has limited the number of hobbies to the following due to the difficulty which will be occasioned in displaying some hobbies: Model airplanes, marionettes, handicraft of all types, stamp collecting, ship building, electricity, Indian crafts and Indian lore, radio, sewing and picture collecting.

Arranged in an artistic manner about the library building are charts, a book shelf, several models and a number of attractive posters all dealing with hobbies and the week of April 24 to May 1.

In addition to the hobby show, Miss Joyce is planning a number of other activities during this week. At this time the boys and girls in the community will be honored by the grown-ups.

Those wishing to enter exhibits in this hobby show should get in touch with Miss Joyce at the library within a few days, and make arrangements to have them placed in the display.

Prepare For Busy Moving Day Time

The movers are getting ready for their annual Moving Day rush on May 1. They expect that within two weeks will come one of the heaviest hauling periods the New Castle transfer houses have seen in years.

While the house moving volume today is "quite heavy" officials of the larger transfer companies explained that the bigger moving loads will come around May 1 and "keep up for 10 days or more."

Few of the companies must make extra preparations for the May 1 week because their business is moving and hauling and they're prepared all year 'round.

The transfer men reported today that normal hauling work is "increasing right along" and "keeping our trucks busy."

Enter Bills To Aid Police In Criminal War

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 15.—The administration moved today to cooperate more fully with other states in dealing with criminals and suspects. Three bills to this end have been introduced in the senate by Senator Glen R. Law, D., Mercer.

As drawn up the bills would:

1. Permit pursuing officers from other states to arrest fugitives in Pennsylvania if the offense is indictable in Pennsylvania.
2. Provide that judicial and administrative authorities of any state could permit persons on parole or probation to live in this state which would, in turn, assume supervision over the probationers and parolees. This, providing that the states in question enter into a compact to that effect with Pennsylvania.
3. Permit, under reciprocal arrangement, a judge to deliver material witnesses into the custody of a requesting state.

Protest School Tax Millage Boost

Signed by a group of citizens of the First and Sixth wards, another protest against an increase in school taxes was received and filed by the New Castle school board Wednesday night. Because the tax levy is set for the current year the board can do nothing now in the way of reducing taxes.

Secretary John B. Bechtol was asked Wednesday night how many people had presented themselves at the board offices to see the budget which was prepared for the year.

"Not one person appeared" said he, "although the budget was on public view from March 5 to March 25 and the fact was so advertised."

Two Dedications To Mark Commencement Of Pitt University

(Special To The News)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 15.—Eight major events, chiefly devoted to opening of the Cathedral of Learning and the Stephen Collins Foster Memorial, to take place on the University of Pittsburgh campus late in May and early in June, were announced today by Norman MacLeod, general chairman of the committee in charge of Pitt's celebration of the 150th anniversary of its founding.

The great three-quarter acre Commons room of the Cathedral will be the scene of the first event Thursday, May 27, at 6:30 p. m., when members of the faculty and of the June graduating class will attend a dinner, the first event ever held in the three-story high, stone-vaulted foyer of Pitt's Cathedral.

The Tuesday Musical club, which raised half a million dollars for construction of the building dedicated to the Pittsburgh composer of "Old Folks at Home", will hold open house in the Foster Memorial Tuesday, June 1, beginning at 2:30 p. m.

Major event June 2 will be a program of Foster songs by Pittsburgh school children at the Memorial at 3 p. m.

The two buildings, the Cathedral of Learning and the Memorial, will be open to the public Friday through Monday, June 4 through 7.

On those days Pittsburghers will see for the first time the priceless collection of Foster manuscripts, first editions and personal belongings, gathered by Josiah K. Lilly of Indianapolis, and presented to the University of Pitsburgh as "trustee for the people of America".

Formal dedication of the Cathedral of Learning and the Commons room will be at 3 p. m. Monday, June 7. More than 3,000 alumni and friends of the University of Pittsburgh are expected to attend.

Alumni will hold class and school reunion and a general meeting on Tuesday, June 8.

Commencement, last large public event on the program, will be at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday, June 9, in the Pitt stadium.

The chancellor's annual Commencement Day luncheon, concluding event of the sesquicentennial observance at which university trustees, officials, faculty and visiting guests or representatives of other colleges and universities are guests, will be held on June 9 at 1 p. m.

Rooms Are Needed, Rev. Lehman States

Church Convention Delegates Must Have 300 More Rooms To Rent Week Of May 3

Rooms that may be rented to the throng of out-of-town people who are coming to New Castle for the Nazarene district assembly at The Cathedral May 3 to 9, are badly needed, according to Rev. Frank Lehman, pastor of the local Nazarene church.

Although promises of some rooms have been secured, at least 300 more must be reserved right away. The room committee for the convention estimates that the number of out-of-town delegates will be approximately 1,000.

Persons with rooms to rent for that week are asked to telephone Rev. Lehman of 27 West Falls street.

Library Readers' Fines Nearly $700

Tardy New Castle Free public library book borrowers paid fines amounting to $679.09 in 1936, Miss Alice M. Sterling, librarian revealed today.

The library's circulation, figures showed, dropped during the twelve month and the librarian explained:

"It seems that increased employment is the largest factor in accounting for the circulation decrease as compared with 1935. Other contributing causes are that persons formerly reading for amusement now have money to spend in other diversions and that many of those who have been reading technical books have found or made work for themselves, and also the shorter library hours in the summer.

"The decrease in the boys' and girls' department is caused by increased income which enables girls and boys to enjoy motion pictures or take music or dancing lessons.

Miss Sterling said the decrease was equally distributed between the adult and juvenile departments.

The library's daily average circulation last year was 816 books.

Health Honors For Pittsburgh

For Fourth Consecutive Year Pittsburgh Gets Public Health Okay

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 15.—For the fourth consecutive year, Pittsburgh today was voted for the meritorious achievement award of the American Public Health Association.

The association, in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, conducts an annual city and rural health contest.

The award is tantamount to first honorable mention among cities of more than 500,000 population and is based on the best records established by the various municipalities for health protection measures, during 1936.

First place in the contest in Class 1 went to Milwaukee, Wis.

Reading and Erie won meritorious achievement awards in the Group 3 contest, for cities of 100,000 to 250,000. First place went to New Haven, Conn.

Will Plant Trees On State Lands Near Sandy Lake

(Special To The News)

MERCER, April 15.—Arrival this week of the first of the shipment of 6,000 young trees and shrubs which will be planted on the state game lands in Sandy Lake township has spurred the reforestration committee of the Mercer County Sportsmen to complete arrangements for this undertaking, according to Ford Smith, Jr., local member of the committee.

Saturday, April 24, is the date the committee has agreed upon for the planting. The county sportsmen have secured 2,000 red pine, 2,000 Norway spruce and an equal number of shrubs, berry bushes, etc., from the game commission for planting in the Sandy Lake area.

It is estimated a force of some 50 men and boys will be required to do the work, each of the five individual groups in the county having agreed to do its share. In addition, a score of N. Y. A. youths are to be assigned in the project.

Telephone Minus Wires Invented

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 15.—Scientists here were marveling over a new invention today—a telephone without wires.

Resembling a miniature radio, the machine can be plugged into a socket over any power line connection. It is portable and provides two-way loud speaker communication. It can be installed without the usual wiring now necessary.

Norman Muller, the inventor, said it is planned to step up the volume of the instrument to permit inter-city communication. At present, it can be used to facilitate communication in large industrial establishments. A "blocking" system shuts out circuits except those over which communications are being sent.

ALLIANCE GROUP MEETING

Members of the executive division of the local Workers' Alliance will gather for a meeting in Room 204 in the Clendenin building tonight at 7:30, J. F. O'Neil, secretary, announced today.

Brown Bomber Sartorially Hot

Gaudy Raiment Out-Dazzles Cab Calloway And Bill Robinson

HAS LOST FACE WITH WRITERS

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 15.—Joe Louis has become the sartorial hot diggedy along 7th and Lenox avenues. The combined razzle dazzle of Duke Ellington, Cab Calloway and Bill Robinson almost suggest mourning in contrast to the brown skinned fighter's dressy didoes.

O. O. McIntyre

In his formative fighting days, Louis clung to blue serges, with only an occasional peep of color, such as a bright-hued tie. But all of a sudden he jumped the gun and with a resounding blooey, blooey cracked the spectrum. He is Harlem's style setter.

And has the most elaborate wardrobe that color-conscious Harlem has ever seen. He sports pearl white Hombergs in Jimmy Walker's jauntiest dip and wears high button shoes with dove gray tops, to say nothing of giraffe skin gloves at $15 a smack, which Gary Cooper popularized.

His pantaloons are five pleated, swooping from his hips to a thin and graceful cuff, his vests sawed off to here and his shoulders padded out to there. One of his shirts is blood red, which he wears with a grass green tie, which gives you the general idea.

Incidentally, Louis for some reason or other has lost considerable face with the New York sports writers. Since his ascendency he was showered with praise until his fight with Bob Pastor and then the panegyrics were turned off suddenly—like water by a tap. The hosannahs turned to hoots almost as venomous as the jeers for Max Baer when he toppled from his pedestal.

But Louis, no matter his pugilistic standing, remains the Bob Bon Buddy in the Black Belt. He is considered the social leader along Strivers Row and Sugar Hill and right now, of course, paces the fashion fare. Already there is a neon-signed Joe Louis Toggery, exploiting styles he is supposed to sponsor. Uptown he is known as "Chappie." That's his manager Joe Blackburn's name for him. When the time comes for Louis to make his kill Blackburn is supposed to say "Let's go to town, Chappie," and in that round the fighter brings his man to the resin. The only Harlem holdout in enthusiasm for Louis is the black ex-champion, Jack Johnson. He has said from the start that any good right-handed puncher could make a monkey out of the boy from Detroit.

The restaurant El Morocco for social stayouts, publishes a miniature tabloid weekly called "No News." It has a regular editor and staff photographer and a copy is on each table nightly. The sheet lists the sirocco flow of celebrities, what they wear and their eccentricities, also prints one or two poses. The itch to be spread upon its pages, of course, brings customers.

Lois Long, The New Yorker's Lipstick, proved herself the prince or rather princess of good fellowship in a recent water wagon wager. At one of the bars one late evening somebody sighed he was tired of it all and was going to chuck intoxicants for at least a month. Several others were so minded and so ten of them deposited a $100 check each as a solemn pledge of abstinence. Those who failed forfeited their deposits. All dropped out of the race before the final day save Miss Long, and when they gathered to see her collect, she waited until five minutes before the final hour, then downed a cocktail and handed each pledger his check. Not many men would have been so generous.

They buried Arakel, the Armenian restaurateur, the other day. For many years Arakel's was a stop in the rounds of trenchermen at its unpretentious stand on lower Lexington avenue. In the cashier's cage Arakel with his bushy brows, piercing eyes and hawk-like nose suggested an eagle. The cafe had the true continental atmosphere. Never crowded, leisurely service, and diners who remained all evening like those at Foyot's and Laperouse. Arakel's soups were not mere potages, but inspirations. Such places always die with their owners.

Thingumbobs: Marie Tempest received letters from Oscar Wilde almost every day he was in jail, but disliked him so she tore them up as received . . . They would be worth a fortune today . . . Jimmy Johnston, the fiery prize fight promoter, is one of the town's most confirmed tea addicts . . . Clare Boothe Luce has dedicated the novelized version of her hit play, "The Women," to her schoolgirl friend, Buff Cobb.

I like the Rube Goldberg story that has been going the rounds for some time now. On the off chance you haven't heard it, here it is: A ventriloquist was desperate because his act was flopping. He heard spiritualism was a good business and opened a seance parlor. A widow came in to talk to her departed husband. The ventriloquist did his stuff and she was delighted. She paid a handsome fee and asked if she might come back the following week to talk again. The ventriloquist, new to his role, said: "Madam, I'll not only let you speak to him but I'll drink a glass of water."

Stomach Gas So Bad Seems To Hurt Heart

"The gas on my stomach was so bad I could not eat or sleep. Even my heart seemed to hurt. A friend suggested Adlerika. The first dose I took brought me relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep fine and never felt better." —Mrs. Jas. Filler.

Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels while ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only. Adlerika gives your system a thorough cleansing, bringing out old, poisonous matter that you would not believe was in your system and that has been causing gas pains, sour stomach, nervousness and headaches for months.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adlerika greatly reduces bacteria and colon bacilli."

Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adlerika and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and stubborn constipation. Eckerd's.

FLEET TO START PACIFIC MANEUVERS FRIDAY

War Games To Get Under Way

Part Of Fleet To Go Towards Alaska, Remainder To Head For Hawaii

ADMIRAL HEPBURN DIRECTS PROGRAM

By RALPH B. JORDAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, April 15.—Paced by the spectacular San Diego-Honolulu flight, the United States fleet was in full swing today toward the official opening of the 1937 "war games" in the Pacific.

Aviation officers and the commander-in-chief of the fleet, Admiral A. J. Hepburn, heaped praise on the 80 officers and men who spanned the western sea in the preview of the "war."

In Los Angeles Harbor and at San Diego 50,000 blue-jackets and officers performed their last missions ashore, for today they will be busy aboard in anticipation of shoving off at daybreak the next morning.

As the dawn breaks Friday the lumbering battleships and cruisers, based here, will nose into the swells of the sea toward a secret rendezvous off the California coast where they will meet the destroyers, submarines and plane carriers from San Diego.

The gigantic armada of gray, trim fighters, the first line of American defense, then will go into cruising formation and set out for Honolulu where they will drop anchor nine days later.

Fleet To Alaska

The only missing ships will be a very small force which will head north toward Alaska, instead of Hawaii, and "jump off" from the land of the northern lights sometime later to take part in the big "battle" for the Hawaiian islands, the major objective of the entire problem. The 1937 problem is to test the defenses of the islands.

On April 23 the fleet, minus the Alaska force, will arrive off the Island of Oahu, on which Honolulu is located, and fight the army defenses until dusk the next day. Then it will lie at anchor off Honolulu, fueling and taking on stores, until April 29 when the ships will be divided into two forces, attacking and defending, and fare forth to fight a major engagement at a secret place.

HUSBAND SAID I WAS GETTING YOUNG AGAIN

New Castle Woman Learns How To Restore Health And Energy In The Spring

"Like most old people, I felt bad every Spring. When the bright sun began to warm things up, my old bones ached. I wanted just to lie around and do nothing, and I didn't even do my housework up to the minute. I had thought for years that this was only natural.

"My husband had been relieved of catarrh during the winter by World's Tonic, and there was about half a bottle left. One morning I felt so bad that I began to take it," said Mrs. D. Grove to the World's Tonic man.

"In just a day or two I began to note the different. The bad taste left my mouth, and my appetite improved. In a few days more my aches and pains left me, my bowels became regular, my foul breath disappeared and my skin cleared up. I can now eat anything and it does not bother me. I got another bottle and before that was all taken my husband said I had begun to look young again! I declare I didn't know the right medicine could do so much. I felt the years roll away, and soon was full of energy. Neighbors said I was overworking myself in my flower garden. But I knew better. I was so full of life I couldn't sit still. Now I know why. In the Spring my system needed clearing up. World's Tonic did that for me, and I've never felt better."

You can obtain this valuable medicine of Eckerd's, Paisley's, or any reliable drug store. (A-138).

Noted Here And There In Other Newspapers

Captain E. J. Henry, acting superintendent of the state highway patrol who was stationed in New Castle some years ago when a lieutenant, is reported to be recovering at Harrisburg from an emergency appendicitis operation performed last Saturday night.

Pastors and members of A. M. E. churches from various communities in Western Pennsylvania are now in their last days of the 69th annual session of Allegheny District Conference in Oil City. One of the pastors who addressed the sessions was Rev. William McPherson, of New Castle.

James Pagley, 16-year-old Lowellville, O., who hitchhiked and pedaled his way to Butler was held at the police station there pending arrival of his parents to claim him. He left home Monday morning on his bicycle, obtained a ride to New Castle on a truck, (the obliging trucker hauling his bike, too,) and then pedaled his way on to Butler. He made a faux pas when he telegraphed to his sister for money, because his parents heard of it and put the Butler cops on the lad's trail. He was found at the telegraph office.

Not quite anything goes in New York City. They are insisting that the "strip tease" girls wear at the very least a string of beads. A manager of a burlesque theater has been convicted for permitting his star performers to shock John S. Sumner, secretary of the Society for the Prevention of Vice.

Mrs. W. E. Millard, widow of Dr. Millard who died in 1919 after practicing medicine in Grimsby, Ont., for many years, received a letter from an anonymous writer in which $5 was enclosed. The letter read, in part: "Having seen your picture in the paper reminded me again of a small amount owing the doctor for over 50 years. I enclose $5."

Maj. Charles J. S. Miller, widely known Franklin man, was buried there on Tuesday afternoon and was given full military honors in memory of his years of service in the World War. He was probably the first Franklin resident to own an automobile following the purchase of a race type of car, Louis Chevrolet, brother of the founder of the motor compaiy of that name, went to Franklin and instructed him in the operation of the machine. Shortly after the turn of the century he became interested in ballooning and made seeral flights over this section. His wife had the distinction of being the first woman to venture forth as an airship passenger.

When you see anybody spending money with careless generosity, scmebody else is doing the hard work that earns it.

REALTY TRANSFERS

Dayton H. Barge to Andrew Lechner, 5th ward, $1.

For a few days there will be no letters testamentary or letters of administration reported in this collum. Not through any neglect but from the fact that the new book for the entries has not arrived in the office of the Register and Recorder, William R. Hanna.

The book which has been in use for a number of months has been filled and a new one was ordered. It arrived but wasn't what was ordered and had to be sent back. And so some of these days the clerks in the office will have a basket full of letters to record.

In court room number two the case of Charles A. Steele against Adolph Green was under way. This is a suit where Mr. Steele is endeavoring to recover for loss of wages and expenses due to a theatrical adventure in which he engaged in 1933. He avers that he resigned as state bank examiner to produce Shakespearean dramas and that Mr. Green was to be associated with him. Acording to his testimony the contract was never fulfilled.

Apparently the site of the new tuberculosis hospital for western Pennsylvania will be named soon. According to the Construction Digest, Edward B. Lee, of Pittsburgh has been named as architect for the new hospital and the money to be expended is $2,475,000.

Ae decision is expected shortly upon where the hospital will be located. Lawrence County has a bid in for it as has many other counties in the western tier.

There are still a lot of dogs in Lawrence County that have no tags. According to County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland 6579 tags have been issued, but there are about 9,000 dogs in the county. If you are making garden you probably have the idea there are twice that many and all of them like to do platoons front on your garden.

Trout fishing opens today but the number of fishing licenses issued for the county at noon Wednesday seemed rather small. About 400 had been issued according to the county treasurer but this number will be increased considerably it is thought.

Boost Tax Millage At Slippery Rock

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., April 15—At a special meeting of the Borough council, the tax for Slippery Rock for the coming year was set at 16 mills, a boost of three mills over last year's rate. The raise was put on the borough tax, the fire and indebedness millage remaining the same.

Despite this boost it is pointed out by council members, there will be little increase in the total amount of taxes over last year, since the assessed valuation of property has been lowered 8 per cent during the past 12 months. Neither is there any increase in county tax millage, which also is figured on the lower assessed valuation.

Slot Machine Man Pleads Guilty In Pittsburgh Court

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 15—Despite the guilty plea of Walter Rosenberg to a charge of installing and maintaining slot machines, Allegheny county authorities today were seeking men they termed the "higher ups" in the racket.

Rosenberg's plea ended his trial suddenly after six persons had testified he persuaded them to install the machines promising them protection and a generous cut in the profits. Finally his atttorney, John R. Frankel, broke in with a plea of guilty.

From sources close to the prosecution, it was learned Rosenberg was believed to be only a minor figure in the racket which, it has been estimated nets close to $2,500,000 a year in this county. He will be sentenced next week by Judge James H. Gray.

FIRST WHITE SETTLER

Do you know that the first white man to settle in the Cumberland Valley was an Indian trader named James Le Tort?

Sometime before 1720 Le Tort set up his trading post on the banks of the little spring which bears his name. Ten years later the Scotch-Irish immigrants began to settle in the valley. By 1750 there were about 3,000 settlers, who demanded a new county of their own to be named "Cumberland."

A new county demanded a county seat, so a site was chosen where the "Great Road" from the Susquehanna to the Potamac was crossed by Indian trails leading to gaps in the North and South Mountains. The new town was named for Carlisle, the county seat of Cumberland county, England.

JUNIOR "KID" PARTY

On Friday night, April 9, the juniors enjoyed their "childhood" games once again. At a very informal "kid" party, childish laughter and fun reigned supreme. The costumes could well illustrate what the well-dressed child wears today. Seesaws and scooters were in great demand; and a swing, built for two, was very popular throughout the evening. Other games which were played were ping-pong, dart throwing, lemonade, farmer in the dell, two deep and relay races. The presence of "Whiskers", a wire-haired terrier, added to the entertainment.

The refreshments were also appropriate to the occasion. Hot dogs, chocolate milk, klondikes, pop corn and "dum-dums" were served.

PLAN "MAYTIME" PROM

The Junior Prom committee went into action April 12 and emerged triumphantly with well-formulated plans for the greatest social occasion of the school term. Since May 14 has been selected for the date, a "Maytime" scheme will be followed in the decorations. Melon Germanovich, the chairman of the prom committee, has selected the following students for his committee: Edward Kursel, Lottie Verlotte, Nick Mittica, Margaret Nenadich, Mary Tasoto and John Hoshowsky.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin club has been meeting every third Thursday with Miss Mildred Patterson as faculty adviser. The officers of the club are: President, Sauvi Valentine; vice president, Britt Swanson; secretary, Dallas Hartford; treasurer, Fred Gallo.

A meeting of much interest to all the members was held April 8 in the domestic art room. It was opened with the singing of a Latin song, "Integer Vitae", by Irma Ek, Josephine Gagliano, Lena Gallena and Tressa Gatto.

Some of the members of the Latin club presented the following play to the members of the freshman class:

Many Openings In U. S. Army Service For District Men

Government Call For More Recruits Creates Many Vacancies For Locals

When the government issued a call recently for more men in the United States Army, it created quite a number of vacancies for men from the local area. Up until the first of this week nearly all of the army corps were closed to men from this sector.

According to Corporal George Trebesh, officer-in-charge of the local station, this call will provide vacancies for 6,000 men from the Third Corps Area, of which New Castle is a part. In addition New Castle men may be recruited for other areas if desirable.

"The number of recruits is now unlimited, and many fine positions are now open to men who qualify for this service," was a statement issued by Corporeal Trebesh. Service in their air corps, cavalry, radio division, foreign service, and many other branches is now open to qualified men. Full information may be secured by applying at the army office, in the Post Office building.

MOTHER PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Anna Novak, 73, wife of Joseph Novak, of Sharon, and mother of a New Castle resident, Mrs. William Mitchell, died in the Buhl hospital Monday after an illness of two weeks. Funeral mass was celebrated in St. Michael's church this morning and she was laid to rest in the church cemetery.

She leaves another daughter, Mrs. Jay Parker; her husband, and four sons, John, Michael, Anthony and Stephen, all in Sharon; and three brothers, Michael Yarabinetz in Czechoslovakia, Peter in Sharon, and Andrew in Greensburg.

Maybe these tremblings aren't earthquakes but only the shaking of Europe's statesmen when Mussolini says "Gr-r-!"

Referee Stops New York Bout To Save Krieger

Fred Apostoli, Of San Francisco, Gives Solly Krieger Artistic Massaging

WANTS TO MEET FREDDY STEELE

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 15.—Fred Apostoli of San Francisco went into temporary retirement today to await the chance at the world middleweight title he earned last night by stopping Solly Krieger of Brooklyn in one of the bloodiest fights staged since brass knucks were ruled out.

And the squat Brooklyn belter likewise has declared a recess for himself from ring warfare—but for an entirely different reason, his rest to be more or less forced while he is being stitched up and renovated at the seams.

Fight Is Stopped

For the first time in his entire career he failed to go the scheduled distance last night, his finish, in a bout billed for 12 rounds, coming between the fifth and sixth rounds, when Referee Jack O'Sullivan played the part of humanitarian.

By stopping the fight he shoved Krieger completely out of the list of contenders, but he probably also saved a life. A freshly healed cut in Krieger's lip was ripped open almost to his chin in the fourth and through the rest of that round and the fifth blood spurted in a torrent that handlers and a commission doctor couldn't stop.

Besides that he was taking a shellacking anyhow for the second time from Apostoli, a smart boxer and sharp hitter, who is as squeamish as some of the customers who averted their eyes when the thing really got bad.

Krieger Cut Up

"After I cut his lip," Apostoli explained, "I was trying hard for a knockout—because I didn't like to fight him in that shape."

He had taken three of the five rounds and besides laying open the cut that ended the fight had started Krieger's left eye to an early closing with short left hooks and straight rights, fired mostly from short range, but with damage on every pitch.

Junior High Teams Here Not To Enter League

Junior high schools of New Castle, Benjamin Franklin and George Washington, will not become members of the newly formed WPIAL for junior high schools. This action was decided upon Wednesday night when the New Castle school board met in session in the administration building on East street.

Recently the WPIAL formed a league that would include the athletic teams of the junior high schools in this section of the state. Franklin and Washington schools here were asked to join and the invitation was referred by the principals of the schools and Superintendent C. C. Green to the board.

Teams Too Young.

"If the junior high schools go into the WPIAL, then it won't be long until they will be asked to go into the PIAA with the various dues necessary to memebrship," said A. C. Hyde, director.

"It would run into money," continued Hyde. "The way the WPIAL is run at the present time is obnoxious. It is dominated by a clique and so is the PIAA."

Said Dr. W. D. Cleland: "The junior high school athletic teams can get all the games they want in this section without going into any WPIAL."

Said C. M. Whittaker: "I believe the boys in the junior high schools are too young to belong to a league. They shouldn't be subjected to strenuous inter-city competition."

Said Dr. C. C. Green: "There is also the matter of the students following the team. They would want to do that and I feel the boys and girls are too young to do it."

On vote the board decided to decline the invitation and the junior high schools will not be members of the junior WPIAL.

Tenpin Stars Will Compete

Virgil Gibbs, Of Kansas City, Who Rolled 847 For Three Games, To Appear

OTHER STARS BOWL TONIGHT

By GLEN R. BIRCHARD
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, April 15—The greatest flock of big-time pin busters yet to grace the American Bowling Congress alleys here is billed for the next three nights, starting tonight.

New York's best bet is ticketed for tonight, it being the Spartan No. 1 team. Besides the Elizazeth Elks, two fast Kansas City teams are billed. On one of these is Virgil Gibbs, holder of a three-game record of 847 which is second best ever recorded in sanctioned league competition.

Tomorrow night is Buffalo night for three of that city's crack outfits are on the slate. They are the Beringer Diamonds, the Carl Miller Chevrolets and Lang's Beer. Frank Caruana, the only man ever to shoot two 300-games in succession in sanctioned league play, is a member of the Chevrolets. On the Lang's is Joe Miller, well-known as a match-game bowler.

Good Scores.

Saturday night is Detroit night in that three outstanding quintets are on the books. Stroh's Bohemian Beer, winner of the international title in 1934 at Peoria and match game champion for two years; Pfeiffer's Beer and Hank Smith's are the Motor City outfits. On the latter is Harold Allen, former co-holder of the world's two-men title, and Joe Scribner, former match game king.

Dover, N. J., led the field last night when the Schwalb Tires rolled a good 2933 with games of 965, 1003 and 965. A 2809 each by Independents of Poughkeepsie and Wayside Inn of Boonton, N. J., ended the better marking.

Dollins score equalled his qualifying round of 71. The exceptional putting of the veteran H. H. Blackburn of Lewisburg, W. Va., gave him a 5 to 4 win over State Senator Pat Beacom of Covington. Blackburn sank seven putts that were 35 feet or longer. Al Marchalle, of Cincinnati beat Henry Gerrmann of New York 4 and 3 and J. B. Ryerson, of Cooperstown, N. Y. won from J. W. Belbert of Detroit 7 and 5.

Attorney-General Cummings said at Washington today the justice department would not investigate charges of possible violation of anti-trust laws by major league baseball clubs.

Jimmy Caras, defending title-holder from Wilmington, Del., lost to Onofrio Lauri of Brooklyn in the world pocket billiard championship play last night at New York, 125 to 107 in 17 innings. Caras retained a half-game edge through the defeat earlier of second place. Andy Ponzi at the hands of former Champion Erwin Rudolph, Cleveland, 125 to 77 in 11 innings.

Six Teams In City League, Start May 16

City Baseball League Will Be Fast Circuit, Babovsky Named As Secretary

The New Castle city baseball league will shove off on the 1937 season on Sunday, May 16, it was determined at a meeting of the league managers held last night at the "Y". Michael "Jake" Babovsky was elected secretary and treasurer to succeed "Pick" Glitch, who tendered his resignation.

The league will consist of six teams—Ryantown, Sixth Ward Firemen, K. Pulaskis, Colored Elks, Lawrence Indies and South Side Board of Trade. The West Pittsburg and Colonial A. C. teams were voted out of the league by the managers. Only the first six teams had representatives at the meeting.

Schedule Being Drawn.

A schedule is now being drawn up for six teams. The league will operate three days each week—Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday. Contracts were given out to the managers last night and a merry signing session will take place in the next few days.

There is no restriction on the number of players that any team can have for one month after the opening date which is May 16, but by June 16 the teams must cut their rosters down to 18 men.

Another meeting of the league will be held on Monday night, April 26, at which time the managers will adopt the schedule as drawn up. Last night at the meeting the by-laws and rules of the league were adopted.

Umpires Present Demands.

All of the managers at the meeting were enthusiastic over the coming season. The matter of umpires was discussed and the managers stated that they would not pay more than $1.50 for a seven-inning game and not more than $2 for a nine inning or Sunday game.

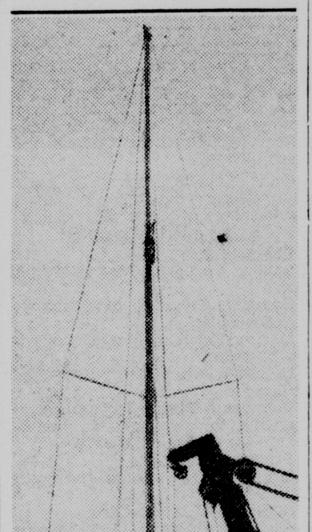

Leo W. Hill, president of the Lawrence County Umpires' association, was present and said that the association men wanted $2.50 for a seven inning game and $3 for Sunday games. At the present time the league and the association are far apart. Whether or not there will be a get-together on the umpire salaries before the league starts, is a matter of conjecture.

New Secretary.

The following managers were present last night: Joe Samuels and Frank Heasley of the Ryantown team, William J. Clark of the Colored Elks, Charles Scaglione of the South Side Board of Trade, Lefty Maslyk of the K. Pulaski team, Sniezek of the Lawrence Indies team and Joe Ziegler of the Firemen team.

The election of Mr. Babovsky to his position was unanimous and met with instant favor of the league managers and officials. He has had wide experience as secretary and treasurer of soft ball teams here for the past several years. The meeting was presided over by Charles "Bugs" Walther, who was elected president at the first meeting.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 15—Several local boys who made good have come home to live after short careers marked by splendid achievement . . . welcoming back to our midst today, Bold Venture, winner of last year's Derby, and Roman Soldier, first in 20 races, with purses of $91,935.

Bold Venture has just been retired to a peaceful paddock at Mereworth Stud, where he has as companions the great Display, "iron horse" of his day and winner of $256,526, and Swift and Sure, former British stakes winner . . . Roman Soldier, stout-hearted son of Cohort, has returned after three years of racing to take up a less eventful life at Horace Davis' Blue Grass Heights farm on the old Frankfort pike.

Horsemen here tell a tale concerning Miamba, dam of Roman Soldier . . . the mare was regarded so lightly as a dam that she was sold some time after Roman Soldier was foaled . . . when Roman Soldier won the Inaugural handicap at Hialeah two years ago, breeders tried to recall what had happened to his mammy . . . after some search, Miamba was found working in a potato patch . . . she had been sold for something like $15 . . . Roman Soldier's smashing victories in major stake and handicap races made Miamba too important a person to be condemned to life at hard labor . . . she was brought back in a hurry to her estate as a mother of thoroughbreds.

A horse whose sons and daughters have won 1,006 races stands at Col. E. R. Bradley's Idle Hour Farm, near Lexington . . . he is Black Toney, the colonel's favorite sire . . . eight times he has been among a year's 20 leading sires.

Black Toney, 26 years old now, has sent an illustrious family to the tracks—Black Servant, Black Gold, Broker's Tip, Balladier, Broadway Jones and other colorful runners. A foal by Black Toney costs the owner of the mare $2,000.

One of Col. Bradley's most respected horses is Blue Larkspur, winner of $272,070 in sixteen starts . . . Col. Bradley, and the rest of the world, thought Blue Larkspur a cinch to win the Kentucky Derby back yonder in 1929 . . . but on the eve of the race, the skies collapsed and the track at Churchill Downs became an ocean of mud . . . a little horse named Clyde Van Dusen splashed to victory that year, much to Col. Bradley's chagrin . . . Blue Larkspur went on to win just about everything in sight that year.

A noted son of Black Toney also stands now at Idle Hour Farm, and he has sent many strong sons to the barrier . . . that would be Black Servant, who was beaten by a head in the Kentucky Derby of 1921 by a stablemate, Behave Yourself . . . Black Servant is Blue Larkspur's daddy.

Bubbling Over, a Derby winner, is housed now at Idle Hour, along with Burgoo King, his son, who won the Derby, too. Horses at Idle Hour Farm have played a great part in American racing history over the last quarter of a century.

Board Of Trade Team Will Meet

The South Side Board of Trade baseball team will workout at the Rosena Furnace Field tonight and Friday (weather permitting), it was announced by Manager Charles Scaglione. There will also be a practice held on Sunday at the same field. The session will start at 2 o'clock. The workouts this week will start at 5:30 o'clock.

Thousands Line Streams As Trout Season Opens

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 15.—Dawn broke over Pennsylvania's streams today, heralding the opening of another trout season—the first for legalized Sunday fishing.

Thousands of would-be Izaak Waltons—some 150,000 licenses have been issued—headed for mountain streams to give battle with the cold-water fish.

And those persons who have the urge to get out into the open but can not translate it into action because of business or other duties had little to fret about. For there still is Sunday, which, so far as fishermen are concerned, need no longer be "blue".

Banner Opening.

Gov. George H. Earle, an ardent fisherman was was expected to be among the early risers today, took care of that by signing the Sunday fishing bill yesterday. The governor himself had license "No. 1".

Reports throughout the state gave indication a banner opening day was in the offing. Streams have been well-stocked, the state game commission reported. An overnight rain which clouded streams in some sections and a cloudy morning dimmed the ardor of some of the fishermen as they set out early today.

The season closes July 31.

Madison Square Garden And Mike Jacobs Battle Tonsil To Tonsil, No Decision

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Following a wild and boisterous first round, in which both boys stood tonsil to tonsil before Federal Judge Guy L. Fake and gamely exchanged oratory, Madison Square Garden was back in its corner this morning, trying to drink the smelling salts with one hand and sniff the water bucket with the other. In other words, the old champion had been punched around a little and was drooling upon his heels.

He instituted the "show cause" action yesterday in order to stop James J. Braddock from fighting Joe Louis in Chicago on June 22, but so far the only disposition seemed to be be to stop the Garden from stopping Braddock. Judge Fake, by his remarks from the bench, clearly indicated that the "show cause" business seemed strangely to be up to the Garden, instead of Braddock, and, indeed, there were times when it looked as though he meant to stop it in order to save the old champion from further punishment.

File More Briefs.

Instead, after 3½ hours of ceaseless rhetoric, he gave the Garden one week in which to file further briefs, set aside another week for the Garden's attempt to make the issue on the Braddock-Baer contract of 1935, instead of the Braddock-Schmeling contracts, calling for a fight here on June 3, a fight which Braddock has complicated considerably by indicating that he does not plan to attend. The Garden's insistence upon the Baer papers, instead of those directly bearing upon the Schmeling-Braddock fight, was due to the fact that practically all its legal strength seemed to response in the 1935 document.

Titan Tennis Star Can't Play

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., April 15—Westminster Titan tennis hopes took a slump today when it was learned that Robert Grier of Mt. Lebanon, No. 1 man on the squad would not be able to play this season. Grier is confined to his home with a throat infection, and has been ordered by physicians to rest this year.

GRIER

In three years of tennis competition, Grier has lost only one match. The Titans will find it hard to replace him as they face a stiff 14-game schedule, opening with W. and J. April 29.

County League Meets Friday

Expect Teams To Reorganize And Arrange For Games At Session

William G. Andrews, vice president of the Lawrence county baseball league, has called a meeting of baseball team managers for 7:30 p. m. Friday at the Sport Goods store. It is expected by Andrews and other league officials that Mahoning, Hillsville, Bessemer, Wampum and West Pittsburg managers will attend. Any other team that wants to enter the league may make application tomorrow night, Andrews stated.

People aren't satisfied to feel superior. It is also necessary to force other people to admit it.

Sportsmen Plan Gala Banquet

Speakers Of National Importance To Appear On Program April 22

WILL BE HELD IN LOCAL CATHEDRAL

Lawrence County Sportsmans Association banquet and roundup to be held at the Cathedral on the night of April 22, promises to be the biggest and most pretentious affair ever conducted by the organization.

Kenneth A. Reid, one of the speakers and the representative of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission has not only been a Commissioner for many years, but is also one of the greatest exponents of the dry fly in this country, and undoubtedly the greatest champion for pure streams. His facile pen is ever advocating them. He claims that pollution is man-made, and man can control it. His researches on this phase of our conservation problems and his keen political insight are respected by all conservationists. An article by Mr. Reid in the current magazine issue is a very lucrid analysis of political factors behind the fight for pure waters.

What with Attorney Robert Wallice as the toastmaster, a selected group from the Senior High school orchestra, movies, sporting goods exhibits and a topnotch meal, the tickets are going fast. Preparations are being made to handle a crowd of one thousand.

WHAT BIG LEAGUE TEAMS ARE DOING

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 15—The Pittsburgh Pirates were smarting today from their fifth defeat in eight starts with the Chicago White Sox. The Bucs lost their latest 3 to 1. The last game of the barnstorming series between the two teams was scheduled here for today.

PHILADELPHIA, April 15—The Athletics today held the city baseball championship after defeating the Phillies for the third straight time, 4 2. Harry Kelley went the route for the American Leaguers and yielded nine scattered hits. Syl Johnson and High Mulcahy were on the slab for the Phils. The remaining two contests of the five game city series will be played Saturday and Sunday.

RICHMOND, Va., April 15—The Brooklyn Dodgers faced the local club in a slugging mood today after clouting six homers against Norfolk yesterday.

NORFOLK Va., April 15—Walter Brown, baseball's biggest pitcher, had blossomed forth as a hitting star today. He waloped a triple, double, and single as the New York Yankees handed their Binghamton, N. Y., farmhands a 7 to 4 beating yesterday at Spartansburg, S. C.

WASHINGTON, April 15—Pitcher Ed Linke of the Senators took a toe hold at the plate and smashed a ringing double to flatten the Boston Bees, 2 to 1 in 10 innings yesterday. The teams will meet again today.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 15—The Chicago Cubs will windup their road tour here today with Larry French, scheduled to pitch the season's opener, named to hurl against the St. Louis Browns. The Cubs banged out a 10 to 4 victory over the Browns at Wichita.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 15—Further north than he has even been before, "Professor" Pat McLaughlin, who quit his job as supervising principal of Laredo, Tex., schools, to join the Detroit Tigers, today was to pitch against the Cincinnati Reds. McLaughlin, slated for delivery to Toledo was retained when Tommy Bridges developed a back ailment which will keep him out of the lineup for several weeks.

Edward Hanlon Dies In Sleep

"Father Of Modern Baseball" Is Tag Carried By Late Ex-Big League Manager

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, April 15.—Edward Hanlon, 79, the "father of modern baseball," died in his sleep during the night.

Although he was president of the City Park board, Hanlon will be remembered by his ability as a player and as a manager at the turn of the century.

He invented the "inside play" and the "hit-and-run" system and was known thruout the baseball world as "Foxy Ned".

Started In 1875.

Born at Montville, Conn., his first player job was with the Providence, R. I., club in 1875. Then he played with the Fall River, Mass., Rochester and Albany cubs and entered the big leagues with the Detroit club several years later. His first manager's job was with the Pittsburgh players and during the winter of 1888-89 he made the historic around the world baseball-tour headed by Albert G. Spalding.

In 1892 he left Pittsburgh to manage the Baltimore Orioles. In 1897 he became manager of the Brooklyn, N. Y., club and then was given a similar position with Cincinnati, later quitting to become owner of the Orioles.

Among the young rookies that came under his charge were John J. McGraw, Wilbert Robinson, Willie Keeler, Hughie Jennings and Joe Kelley, all of whom made great names for themselves.

Racing is called the sport of kings. You see, a king can guess wrong without beating his grocer.

The old St. Cloud building is coming down, in fact it is about . . . flat . . . done away with vanquished . . . they are doing a fine job of it too . . . no great risk to the general public is exposed . . . the workers are sometimes thrill artists but not because they want to . . . unexpected things will happen . . . we are wondering what the new building will look like.

All winter long we kept saying . . . "well it looks like snow today, maybe we can do some skiing" . . . remember all those times . . . well the snow is gone and now we are wanting sunshine so we can go without a topcoat . . . maybe we can be right this time . . . it looks pretty good today.

This column has been leaning toward the romantic side of life for some time . . . there are several reasons . . . can't mention them at this time . . . some people say it's great and one gentleman (we will call him that once) says it's terrible . . . when you grow too old for romance then you'd better give up . . . what say Billy Berger.

Stock Market Is Irregular

Market Trend Is Highly Irregular Today, Steels Off Fractionally

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 15.—The stock market showed a highly irregular trend today. Steels dropped at the opening and steadied later, but United States Steel still was below last night's close while Bethlehem was only fractionally higher.

Chrysler and General Motors were up fractionally while fractional declines were registered by Anaconda, Kennecott, Goodyear and United States Rubber. Celanese jumped better than a point to new high ground. Rails were practically unchanged. Bonds were quiet and mixed. Grains lost ground while cotton improved.

Bank Night Case Is Before Court

Claim For $270 Is Being Aired In Testimony In Court Case

Under the bank night plan patrons of the theatre registered in a book in the lobby of the theatre. At certain specified times a drawing was held and if the lucky person was in the house they were awarded the money to be given away.

Mrs. Pecararo avers that she cannot read or write, and that she asked a bystander to register her name in the book. She was in the theatre when her name was drawn but when she presented herself to the management she claims they refused to pay the award to her.

The case opened shortly before noon and the defense of the case had not been presented.
